ANNOUNCEMENT

Subject: Debt Management Services' Upcoming Workshop/Conference Training Schedules

Members of the Financial Management Service's Debt Management Services (DMS) will visit New Orleans, Oklahoma City, and Las Vegas in the upcoming months as part of DMS' ongoing effort to educate Federal agency representatives on non-tax debt collection and reporting. DMS has a continuing commitment to strengthen its Debt Collection Program and to ascertain compliance with the Debt Collection Improvement Act (DCIA) of 1996. To accomplish these goals, DMS will conduct regional training workshops to provide Federal agency representatives with information on debt collection requirements, collection tools, and opportunities to maximize the collection of delinquent debt.

The Debt Collection 101 (DC 101) workshop is designed to reach a broad-based Federal audience consisting of program, legal, and technical staff members and to provide the novice with an understanding of debt collection. Experts will cover topics such as the DCIA, Debt Management Accounting, Cross-Servicing, Treasury Offset Program, and legal issues. In the Treasury Report on Receivables (TROR) workshop, Federal agency representatives will learn how to accurately report the status of their agencies' eligible delinquent debt. Participants also will learn more about the reporting process, ways to work with their DMS liaisons, and other tips to help improve their reporting.

For the workshop/conference training schedules, see the table below.
